

2007 Chicago CSA Map

Food that's fresh from the farm delivered to your neighborhood

WHAT IS A CSA? Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) programs offer an opportunity for farmers and the community to truly connect. CSA farms are small enterprises, use organic growing methods, and are committed to fresh, high-quality products. People purchase a share of the farm's crop at the beginning of the season. The farmer delivers weekly boxes containing the best of what the growing season has to offer right to your neighborhood.

Angelic Organics | Bob Bower

1547 Rockton Road | Caledonia, IL 61011
 (815) 389-2746 | www.angelicorganics.com
 Angelic Organics is the largest CSA in the country. Since 1990, farmer John Peterson has been growing vegetables on his land according to strict organic principles. They are located somewhat west of Chicago, and deliver their vegetables, herbs and greens to sites all over the city.

Cedar Valley | Jody Osmund

1985 N. 3609th Road | Ottawa, IL 61350
 (815) 431-9544 | www.localharvest.org/farms/M5067
 Cedar Valley Sustainable Farm is a CSA that realizes that few live by vegetables alone. For this reason, they offer eggs, poultry, pork and beef. Integrating livestock grazing into their field and crop rotation brings Cedar Valley closer to its goal of truly sustainable production.

Genesis Growers | Vicki Westerhoff

8373 E. 3000 S. Road | St. Anne, IL 60964
 (815) 933-1454 | www.FamilyFarmed.org
 The Westerhoffs grow more than 60 varieties of vegetables, including broccoli, cantaloupe, potatoes, watermelon, sugar snap peas, bell peppers, cucumbers, green onions and salad greens, not to mention herbs such as basil, horseradish, and rosemary. Genesis Growers also raise about 200 chickens for both meat and eggs, and keep a handful of cattle for beef.

Grass is Greener Gardens | Rich Horbaczewski

W8473 Smock Valley Rd | Monroe, WI 53566
 (608) 966-1128 | www.grassisgreenergardens.com
 Grass is Greener Gardens raises free-range, lamb, chicken and hens, and grows fresh produce and flowers. They use Integrated Pest Management and all of their products are free of chemical or synthetic fertilizers.

Growing Home, Inc. | Harry Rhodes

1325 S. Wabash Ave. #205 | Chicago, IL 60605
 (312) 435-8601 | www.growinghomeinc.org
 Growing Home is a certified organic producer of salads, green beans, broccoli, cucumbers, squash, carrots, beets, rutabaga, turnips, leeks, strawberries, raspberries, asparagus, and honey. It also serves as a transitional employment program for homeless and low-income people who receive hands-on training in urban organic agriculture.

Growing Power | Will Allen

1741 N. Western Ave | Chicago, IL 60647
 (773) 486-6005 | www.growingpower.org
 Growing Power is the last remaining registered farm in the city of Milwaukee. Produce includes Swiss chard, salad mix, watercress, various herbs, tomatoes, lemon grass, and water spinach. They also raise tilapia (a type of fish), keep chickens for eggs, and produce their Urban Honey from five hives around back.

King's Hill Farm | Tom Ulick

19370 Hwy G | Mineral Point, WI 53565
 (888) 752-2301 | www.kingshillfarm.com
 King's Hill Farm is an organic farm and wildlife refuge located in Southwestern Wisconsin. Since 1999, it has become one of the most diverse organic farms in the Midwest. They grow greens, vegetables, beans, and herbs.

Prospera Farm | Leo Sances

W3566 County Road E | Berlin, WI 54923
 (920) 369-8747 | www.prosperafarm.com
 Prospera Farm grows practically every vegetable imaginable, and all crops are grown without chemical pesticides, herbicides, or fertilizers. They pride themselves on composting, rotating crops, and creating a top-notch, healthy, and sustainable farm. They have one drop-off site in the city; please contact them for information.

Sandhill Organics | Peg & Matt Sheaffer

32140 North Harris Road | Grayslake, IL 60030
 (847) 548-4030 | www.sandhillorganics.com
 Sandhill Organics farm is located in the heart of Prairie Crossing, a conservation community in Grayslake, Illinois. Matt and Peg Sheaffer specialize in growing a wide variety of certified organic vegetables, herbs, and flowers.

Scotch Hill Farm | Tony & Dela Ends

910 Scotch Hill Road | Brodhead, WI 53520
 (608) 897-4288 | www.scotchhillfarm.com
 Since 1994, Scotch Hill Farm has been growing over 100 varieties of vegetables and herbs without chemical pesticides, herbicides, and fertilizers, and selling them in Illinois and Wisconsin. Farm interns and family plant, tend, harvest, wash, bag and deliver their vegetable produce to several drop-off sites throughout Chicago.

Sweet Earth Organic Farm | Renee Randall

PO Box 323 | Wauzeka, WI 53826
 (608) 875-6026 | www.sweetearthorganicfarm.com
 Renee Randall first certified her 120-acre ridge-top farm in Southwestern Wisconsin in 1974 and has been organically farming ever since. Sweet Earth emphasizes freshness, optimum nutrition, and vine ripening tomatoes, peppers, and melons. "We have an appealing menu of veggies, herbs and fruits to meet the CSA harvest schedule and a good helping of love for what we do to keep us going," says Renee.
